

The National Centre for Advocacy Studies

The National Centre for Advocacy Studies (NCAS), a social change resource centre, based in Pune with offices in Delhi and Raipur, invites applications from persons with commitment to human rights and social justice, and interested in working with a social change agency, for the post of Programme Officer and/or Coordinator for its Delhi Office.

Eligibility- Postgraduates in Social Work/Social Sciences/Human Rights/Law/Mass Communication and having at least four to five years experience in Advocacy/Journalism/Campaigns/Research. Applicants should be computer literate with fluency in English and Hindi and strong writing skills.

Job profile- The person/s appointed will have responsibility for undertaking advocacy and extending support to campaigns, interacting with the national media, government institutions and members of Parliament with additional responsibility for bringing out the NCAS publication on Parliament proceedings. Applicants should have demonstrable record of self motivated work.

NCAS salary structure can be viewed on http://www.ncasindia.org/public/staticpages/ncas_transperancy.asp

Applicants are requested to forward their detailed C.V. with a one-page note on why they would like to be part of NCAS by 26th March 2010 to the Executive Director, National Centre for Advocacy Studies, Serenity Complex, Ramnagar Colony, Pashan, Pune 411 021 or email to ncas@vsnl.com / ncasindia@gmail.com